Quality of analytical approach and quality of offered solution to the research objectives. Adequacy of objectives coverage; ability to formulate and convey the research problem; ability to offer options for its solution; application of the latest trends in relevant research are for the set objectives.

The author showed an ability to clearly formulate and convey the research problem. The stated research objectives are fully covered. The analytical approach used in the study is meticulously developed and well-applied.

Quality of data gathering and description. Quality of selecting research tools and methods; data validity adequacy; adequacy of used data for chosen research tools and methods; completeness and relevance of the list of references.

The author demonstrated initiative in developing the questionnaire and gathering relevant data. It is worth particularly highlighting that all the data for this master thesis were collected by the author herself. The gathered empirical data is adequate for chosen research methods. The list of references is relevant to the topic and contains contemporary pieces on the considered research problem.

Scientific aspect of the thesis. Independent scientific thinking in solving the set problem/objectives; the extent to which the student contributed to selecting and justifying the research model (conceptual and/or quantitative), developing methodology/approach to set objectives. Scientific aspect of the thesis is confirmed by the fact that an empirical research paper based on this work has been developed in co-authorship with Yulia and accepted for publication in Vestnik of St.Petersburg State University Management journal. Yulia has shown independent scientific thinking and ability to independently develop conceptual framework of the study, justify hypotheses and apply appropriate analytical approach.
